

Nozawa Onsen Village

The hot springs of Nozawa Onsen were discovered in the 8th Century. During the Edo period the baths were used for healing purposes; now they are enjoyed by many skiers and tourists visiting Japan. Within the village there are 13 free public baths called "soto-yu". Visiting each of the public baths (soto-yu meguri) is also popular amongst people staying in the village.

Nozawa Onsen Ski Resort

The resort has 36 trails with an elevation of 1,085m; its longest trail is 10,000m and the steepest gradient is 39 degrees. There are gentle slopes at the summit so beginners may also enjoy the area's exceptional snow quality and spectacular views.

Tour of the public baths

There are thirteen public baths within the village, all flowing with 100% natural hot spring water. The type of hot spring and the effect it has on the body differs depending on the bath, so it is fun to try them all and find your favourite. The "O-yu" bath is at the centre of the village and is the icon of Nozawa Onsen. It is a beautiful building in the architectural style of an Edo period bathhouse.

"Onsen tamago"

"Onsen tamago" are chicken eggs cooked in hot spring water; the yolk is soft boiled and the white is semi-coagulated. Onsen tamago can be bought at various shops in town or you can try your hand at boiling your own at any of the following hot springs: Kamitera-yu, Kuma-no Tearai-yu, Matsuba-no Yu, Juuoudou-no Yu. (Instructoins are on display at each of the establishments).
